Swangate, also known as West Melton, is Eenergy's first battery entering into operations in the UK. The project was recently financed with around EUR 32 million (USD 35.3m) in debt from Goldman Sachs and has in place a long-term route-to-market agreement with the investment banking giant for the battery's trading and optimisation.

The EnStorage flow battery, protected by nine patents, consists of an electrochemical energy conversion device and two storage tanks. The main components -- the fuel-cell stacks -- are manufactured in Israel. The battery offers energy producers a level of efficiency that will result in higher returns and better payback periods, Blum says.
