The given number is how many accumulators you need to build per solar panel. So a value of 0.847 means you have to build 0.847 accumulators for 1 solar panel or 847 accumulators for every 1000 solar panels. On Vulcanus, you can see, that qualities above normal for accumulators only lead to more wasted capacity.

If you need 25 solar panels for every 21 accumulators, Measure the solar panel box and the accumulator box. You'd want to insert solar panels when the solar panel measurement is less than or equal to the number of accumulators * 25 / 21. And you'd want to insert accumulators when accumulator measurement is less than or equal to the number ...

Scenario 1) I build solar and accumulators at a 1:1 ratio Result 1) Assuming I have enough solar panels to power my base and fully charge my accumulators during the day to last the night, my base runs properly and fires laser defenses using the extra stored power. Scenario 2) I build solar and accumulators at an "optimal" ratio
